Frontieres – Doctors Without Borders

An exhibition of images and photographs of structures made over decades. Reflections, playing cards, paper bags, receipts, newspapers, pamphlets, things found dumped in the woods and along the sea line; tides, and times in between.....

Studies made in factories, shops, cafes, along the river, in drift mines, by the sea, over the hills, to mountains and waterfalls.

Days of work, strikes and leisure, days of peace, days of uncertainty, days of protest.
